PROJECT PHASE

DESCRIPTION

Human Nature developed a conceptual plan and layout for the Cincinnati Park Board for the existing site around Seasingood Pavilion. The Pavilion is located in Eden Park in the natural contours between Play House in the Park and the Cincinnati Art Museum. Given the unique nature of the site and the graceful tree canopy that covers the audience, an emphasis was placed on blending the hardscape and natural features. Elements of the site include porous concrete, pavement features, improved accessibility, and plantings.
